The Department of Agriculture has issued a circular creative to an investigation as to the adulteration of orchard grass, blue grass, clover and alfalfa seed. The department gathered seed from all parts of the United States, buying it in the open market, and of the seed examined about one-third was found to be adulterated. The degree of adulteration varied from 10 per cent. to 70 per cent. The names of upward of 100 firms which the department alleges are selling the adulterated seeds are printed in the circular. It is estimated that 700,000 pounds Canadian blue grass seed are annually imported into the United States and mixed with the Kentucky blue grass and sold as the latter. A similar amount of trefoil is imported from England mixed with alfalfa seeds and sold at a corresponding advance, says the circular.

The following crop bulletin has been issued by the department of Agriculture for Kentucky: The weather being mild during the entire month, all winter growing crops made fine progress, and at the end of the month were green and in promising condition. Wheat, rye, oats and grass never looked better at this time of year, and while there was some damage to these from alternate freezing and thawing, the damage is of small importance. There was fortunately no severely cold weather, as the ground was practically without snow covering the whole of the month. The warm weather caused an extensive budding of the fruit trees, especially peaches, and of rose bushes. While fruit trees were uninjured at the end of the month, yet they were so much advanced that exposure to much cold weather later would no doubt result seriously. Stock generally is in fine condition and feed and water plentiful. Excellent progress was made in farm work and some plowing for hemp and corn accomplished.

Consumption

There is no specific for consumption. Fresh air, exercise, nourishing food and Scott's Emulsion will come pretty near curing it, if there is anything to build on. Millions of people throughout the world are living and in good health on one lung.

From time immemorial the doctors prescribed cod liver oil for consumption. Of course the patient could not take it in its old form, hence it did very little good. They can take and tolerate it for a long time. There is no oil, not excepting butter, so easily digested and absorbed by the system as cod liver oil in the form of Scott's Emulsion, and that is the reason it is so helpful in consumption where its use must be continuous.

We will send you a sample free.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.
